The bottle tops that become 3-D building bricks*

Annual consumption of plastic bottles is set to top two trillion by 2021, according to a Guardian report from 2017, a large percentage of which will end up in the sea or in landfill.

British inventor Willy Johnson has found an ingenious solution for avoiding plastic waste: ToPo

There is no better time to introduce ToPo™. With many household incomes being hit so badly than a "single use" discarded Plastic top that converts into a FREE Educational "Lego like" Toy and also "sToPollution"™!
